WASHINGTON.

The Senate Passes the Department Pension Bill.

AN INVESTIGATION OF TRUSTS.

How Government Business is Transacted—The President on the Chinese Treaty—The Mail Service Throughout the West.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Among petitions and memorials presented and referred was one, said to have over 102,000 signatures, from thirty-three states and territories, against the admission of Utah as a state, so long as its people are under control of the Mormon priesthood.

Among the bills reported and placed on the calendar were the following: To provide for a joint celebration at the national capital by sixteen American republics in honor of the centennial of the parent republic, the United States.

Stewart replied to the remarks of Sherman two days ago on the silver demonetization question. It would be well, he thought, if every member of congress could plead entire ignorance of that question. It was not to the credit of anybody to have knowingly done what was done then. He read from the record the report of the discussion in the senate, and said according to the statements of Sherman, the senate was justified in believing that under the proposed legislation the silver dollar would have been a full legal tender to-day, and the country would not have the depressing times it now had. He did not believe the senator from Ohio knew then what was to be the effect of that legislation.

THE PENSION BILL.

The dependent pension bill was then taken up again. Manderson replied to some of the remarks made by Vest last week, particularly as to there being no Federal ex-soldiers, or confederates either, in alms houses in Missouri. He quoted from the report of the commissioner of pensions, showing that on October 15, 1887, there were in Missouri alms houses 118 ex-Union soldiers and sixty-two dependent relatives, and in the whole United States 16,856 ex-soldiers and 4945 dependent relatives—in all 22,001. In addition there were in the national soldiers homes 15,152 inmates, making a total of 37,153 ex-soldiers and their dependents who were dependent on charitable institutions. In contradiction of Vest's statement that 50 per cent of those enrolled during the war were either pensioners or applicants for pensions, he showed that there were 67,424 invalid pensions granted, and 240,662 for widows, children, or dependent relatives. In other words, that there were of pensioners and claimants not over 20 per cent. of the whole number enlisted.

Hawley believed the bill to be practical, sensible and patriotic. He quoted Gen. Grant as saying, the very last time that he was at the capital, "If I were to be president again I would sign a reasonable bill to prevent sufferings of soldiers or their families, no matter what they arise from; and I would not sign a bill to grant a dollar to any able bodied man." He (Hawley) stood upon that. He would vote against any and every amendment to the bill, believing that as it came from the committee it was a simple, straightforward measure of immediate relief to real sufferers.

Wilson (Iowa) said that so firmly was he convinced that the class which would be included within the benefits of the bill by his amendment would be excluded without it that he would vote for it, even if he voted alone.

The question was taken and Wilson's amendment was rejected—yeas 13, nays 45.

The bill was then reported back from the committee of the whole and the amendments therein agreed to were voted on. The first vote was on the amendment offered by Call to make the bill apply to those who served in the war with Mexico, or for thirty days in any of the wars with Indian tribes. Rejected—yeas 21, nays 37.

The next vote was on Plumb's amendment striking out the word "totally" before the word "incapacitated" and it was rejected—yeas 14, nays 42.

THE MEASURE PASSES.

The bill passed—yeas 41, nays 16, as follows:

Yeas—Aldrich, Allison, Blair, Blodgett, Bowen, Brown, Cameron, Chase, Chandler, Cullom, Davis, Dawes, Dolph, Farwell, Faulkner, Frye, George, Gorman, Hale, Hampton, Hawley, Hiscock, Hoar, Ingalls, Kenna, McPherson, Manderson, Mitchell, Paddock, Palmer, Payne, Platt, Pugh, Riddleberger, Sawyer, Sherman, Spooner, Stewart, Stockbridge, Teller, Turpie, Voorhees, Walthall, Wilson (Iowa)—44.

Nays—Bate, Beck, Berry, Blackburn, Cockrell, Coke, Colquitt, Daniel, Eustis, Gibson, Harris, Pasco, Reagan, Saulsbury, Vance, Wilson (Maryland)—16.

Pairs that were announced were: Evarts and Morgan, Edmunds and Jones (Arkansas), Sabin and Call, Ransom and Jones (Nevada), Vest and Plumb.

Blair, from the committee on education and labor reported a bill applying the eight hour law to letter carriers.

Sherman offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the president to furnish copies of the instructions sent to the United States minister at Caraccas, and of correspondence between the governments of the United States and Venezuela since February, 1872, regarding the seizure and detention of the American steamships Hero, San Fernandie and Nutrias, the property of the Venezuelan Transportation Company, of New York.

The undervaluation bill was taken up as unfinished business, and the senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the house to-day the bill appropriating $10,000 for the purchase of certain swords belonging to the widow of General James Shields was passed, after some debate.

Morrow of California, from the committee on foreign affairs, reported a resolution calling on the president for information touching public affairs at the Navigator islands: adopted.

Raynor of Maryland reported his bill to establish postal telegraph, from the committee on commerce: referred to the committee of the whole.

Hatch of Missouri, from the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, reported adversely the bill exempting American coastwise sailing vessels piloted by their licensed master, or by United States pilots, from the obligation to pay state pilots for services not rendered; calendar.

In consideration of the morning hour the house went into committee for consideration of bills reported by the committee on public lands.

McKenna of California called up the senate bill granting to the state of California 5 per cent of the net proceeds of cash sales of public lands in that state. McKenna said the object of the measure was to put California upon the same footing as other public land states. Pending action the morning hour expired, and the committee rose. The house adjourned.

THE TRUSTS.

An Investigation by the House Committee on Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The house committee on manufactures to-day began an investigation of trusts. The sugar trust was the one selected to be first investigated. Chairman Bacon read a list of those who had been subpenaed. The answer of "present" was made by Messrs. Theodore Havemeyer, Henry O. Havemeyer, George H. Mollorat, U. N. Camp and John E. Parsons. The name of Wm. H. Morris was called, but he was not present, and the chairman asked that the reporters note the fact.

John E. Parsons said he was a lawyer of New York city, had drawn up the deed of trust forming what was known as the Sugar Refiners' Company. He had a true copy of the instrument, save that there was omitted from the copy the amounts of the total capital issued and held by the various members of the trust, as it was held that this was private information, and was not necessary for any purpose of legislation.

The instrument having been read by the committee clerk, Parsons stated that the instrument was practically instituted October 1, 1887, though certain of the signatures were not affixed until later. He explained, in answer to questions, that the various firms interested in the deed were first required to become corporations, if they were not already such, before signing the paper and gave detailed information about each participant. He stated that the firms turned over to the trustees the stock of each firm respectively, and in lieu therefor the trustees gave each firm a certain amount of stock of the combined firm or company.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS.

Its Transaction Hampered by Many Absurdities and Errors.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The report submitted to-day by Senator Cockrell, from the special committee which has been studying the methods of transacting government business in the executive departments, is a volume of 208 printed pages, in addition to voluminous appendixes. The committee find much in certain places to commend, and very much in others to condemn as unnecessary, ridiculous and farcical circumlocution.

The report classifies the forces employed by the government, including officers and men of the army and the navy, and finds a grand total of 171,746 individuals.

Reports received from various departments in reply to the committee's letters of inquiry failed to show the connection of a bureau with its division in respect to a single item of business transacted, and for the purpose of getting information of this character, the committee caused a few specimen items to be traced from initiation to completion. The first of these is an expenditure of $10,000 by the treasury department for stationery for the fiscal year of 1887. The simple statement of the course of this transaction, from the estimate to the settlement of the warrant, required twenty one printed pages. Other cases instanced are characterized as "showing farcical routine examinations, certifications, entries, counter-entries and red tape, when a direct course of settlement would have been far preferable.

The committee finds the second auditor's clerks writing thousands of letters to the quartermaster general's clerks for information to be obtained from copies of pay rolls in the quartermaster-general's office, the originals of which were prepared in and are now on file in the office whence the inquiries emanate.

It finds the condition of business in the general land office and for many years past, "chaotic," which results from want or lack of plain, correct business methods and requirements, promptly and uniformly enforced upon the local land offices and employes of the government land office. It finds that the tract books of the office have been neglected since the year 1882, and that information which should be readily accessible, is by reason of this "gross carelessness and negligence" to be sought here and there through the records, at great expense of time and labor.

It finds that registers and receivers, instead of exercising the quasi judicial functions conferred upon them by congress are treated merely as clerks of the department, heaping upon the Washington office vast accumulations of undigested matter, which takes its chances with the accumulations of past decades.

The committee finds the patent office suffering for want of "classified abridgement" of patents granted, a work begun several years ago, but unavoidably delayed, and it submits a bill appropriating $20,000 for the speedy completion of this work. The reports disclosed many tricks of patentees and would-be patentees for practically extending the life of their patents. Numerous recommendations are made.

NORTHWESTERN INTERESTS.

Notes in Relation to Postoffices, Pensions Indian War Claims, Etc.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Dolph was to-day notified by the secretary of the treasury that the collector of customs at Port Townsend, W. T. had been authorized to nominate a suitable person for additional deputy collector for night duty at that port.

He also received notice from the second assistant postmaster general that the mail service from Antelope to Fossil, Oregon, has been increased to three times a week, and the department had declined to increase the service from Seaside to Garibaldi from one to three times a week from July 1 to December 31, on the ground that the receipts of the offices to be benefited do not justify an increase of service.

Senator Dolph gave notice to-day that on Monday next he would call up the resolution referring the president's message, for the purpose of submitting some remarks thereon.

James A. Russell has been appointed postmaster at Cove, Union county, to succeed Mark Stevens, removed.

A pension has been granted to the minors of James M. Herpsheimer, Oakdale, W. T.

Senator Mitchell has secured the allowance by the commissioner of pensions of a pension to Mary A. Trevitt, of Portland, widow of the late Victor Trevitt, for services in the Mexican war.

Senator Mitchell introduced a bill to-day making an appropriation of $584,719 for the Indian department, for claims allowed by the commissioner of Indian affairs. Congress has already appropriated $50,000 for the examination and allowance of certain claims. Under the law claimants were permitted to make proof of the amount of depredation and the commissioner was to allow the amount of injury sustained by settlers by Indian raids and wars. The aggregate of all the claims allowed by the commissioner, after he had heard the evidence, is $584,719 and Senator Mitchell has introduced this bill to make an appropriation of that amount for relief of claimants.

GENERAL TERRY.

Unseemly Speculation at Washington Over His Successor.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Maj Gen Terry is now on a sick leave of four months. The nature of his illness is not definitely known. It is surmised that he is suffering from Bright's disease, but he is exceedingly sensitive to statements of this sort, and his friends deny that they are true. Still, in spite of Terry's reticence in regard to his sickness it is the general impression that he has some fatal malady and he will not resume his duties at the expiration of his sick leave. It, however, he is able to take up his rank, he will not be retired until 1891 under the law.

Still, in the opinion of many, Terry will never again be able to resume his military duties, and the question of his successor has already been a subject of a good deal of talk. Terry is major general. The rank next below his is that of brigadier general, and there are six brigadiers. They stand on the official register in the following order: Crook, Miles, Stanley, Gibbon, Ruger and Merritt. The president can take any of these brigadiers and nominate him to the major-generalship, which will be vacant upon the retirement of Terry. It is the general opinion here that he will nominate Crook, because he is first on the list. Crook is a favorite of Sheridan, stands well with the department, and there is nothing in his career to prevent his receiving the nomination.

On the other hand, Miles is a comparatively young man, and is looked upon as certain to be one day commander of the army. In consequence of this it is said that his friends should not endeavor to have him promoted ahead of an officer higher on the list than himself. In addition to this it is said that his trouble with the secretary of war stands against him, and would prevent his being promoted over others equally as meritorious. The opinion here is that Crook will succeed Terry.

A MESSAGE TO THE SENATE.

The President Reports Progress on Negotiations Concerning Chinese Restriction.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The president to-day sent to the senate the following message.

To the Senate: A copy of the following resolution passed by the senate on the first day of the present month, was delivered to me on the 3d instant:

Resolved, That in view of the difficulties and embarrassments that have attended the regulation of the immigration of Chinese laborers to the United States under the limitation of our treaties with China, the president of the United States be requested to negotiate a treaty with the emperor of China, containing a provision that no Chinese laborer shall enter the United States."

The importance of the subject referred to in this resolution has been by no means overlooked by the executive branch of the government, charged under the constitution with formulating treaties with foreign countries. Negotiation with the emperor of China for a treaty such as mentioned in the said resolution was commenced many months ago and has been since continued. The progress of the negotiations so inaugurated has heretofore been freely communicated to such members of the senate and its committee on foreign relations as sought information concerning the same. It is, however, with much gratification that I deem myself justified in expressing to the senate in response to its resolution the hope and expectation that a treaty will soon be concluded concerning immigration of Chinese laborers that will meet with the wants of our people and the approbation of the body to which it will be submitted for confirmation.

GROVER CLEVELAND

Executive Mansion, March 8, 1888.

THE MAIL SERVICE.

The Postmaster General Claims That Western Complaints Are Unfounded.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In answer to Perkins's resolution of inquiry into the alleged complaint prevailing in the West against the present unsatisfactory mail service, the postmaster general to-day sent to the house a communication, in which he says careful inquiry and close examination of the complaints fail to disclose any reliable ground for the complaints. In no section of the country embraced in the system of railway mail service has there not been during the past three years, a most prompt and liberal response on the part of the department to the needs of the people. The postmaster general unhesitatingly asserts that the railway mail service through the entire system of the West, and the whole field of its operations, is in a better and more efficient condition than it ever has been before.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

STEWART'S COIN CERTIFICATE BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Stewart delivered a speech in the senate this afternoon on his coin certificate bill. His speech, which was of great length, gave an interesting history of money and the effects which contraction and expansion have had, respectively, upon the principal nations of the world. He claimed that contraction always caused hard times, and plenty of money produced prosperity. He strongly urged an increased amount of the circulating medium, based upon silver.

SYMPATHY FROM PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Baron Von Alvensleben, retiring German minister, called on the president to-day and presented his letters of recall. The president in closing his remarks in reply to the Baron's address, said: "I cannot refrain at this time from an expression of sorrow in relation to the reported extremity of the illness of the venerable emperor of Germany, and to indulge a hope that he may be enabled to recover his wonted health."

WHERE FOREIGNERS MAY RESIDE.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The U. S. minister at Peking China, has informed the department of state that ports of China at which foreigners have a right to reside, to procure property and do business, are as follows: Shanghai, New Kwang, Tien Tsin, Che Foo, Ikank, Han Kow, Kiu Kiang, Weakee, Chin Kiang, Ning Po, Wen Chow, Foo Chow, Famsin, Takow, Amoy, Swatow, Canton, Kiung Chow and Pakvoi.

THE SURPLUS.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Secretary Fairchild, in a report submitted to congress early in December estimated that the treasury surplus would reach $140,000,000 by the end of the present fiscal year. It is now stated at the treasury department that, owing to heavy receipts during the past few months, the estimate then submitted will prove too small, and that the surplus at the end of June, 1888, will probably reach the sum of $156,000,000.

PUBLIC PRINTER BENEDICT IN A CORNER.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Under cross examination before the house printing committee to-day Benedict acknowledged that he had authorized [illegible] for reference only in a circular addressed to postmasters, seeking to learn the political status of persons in their districts. A series of questions was put to witness, with the intention of getting from him a positive statement of his reasons for certain discharges, and an admission that he employed spies to report to him concerning the conduct and work of employes. He admitted that he got private information but refused to give the names of the persons who furnished it. He assigned as his reasons for making discharges the fact that he had found the persons discharged less competent than others. He had made no discharges for purely political reasons.

A REMARKABLE PETITION.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Ingalls presented in the senate to-day a remarkable petition. It is signed by 105,000 citizens of the thirteen original states of the Union, protesting against the admission of Utah to the Union. The petition is about the size of a nail keg, and trimmed with red white and blue bunting. Ladies were mainly instrumental in securing the signatures.

RESOLUTIONS ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The house committee on foreign affairs agreed this morning to report favorably Crane's resolution providing for the straightening of the boundary between Mexico and the Rio Grande. Also a resolution by Morrow calling upon the secretary of state for information regarding the condition of affairs in Samoa.

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The president has sent to the senate the nominations of John C. Vance, to be surveyor of customs for the port of New Orleans and Julien E. Pardee of California to be register of the land office at Susanville, California.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The secretary of the treasury has sent to the house an estimate of $100,000 to defray the expenses of observations of a total eclipse of the sun which will be visible on the Pacific coast, January 1, next.

THE MISSION OF COL. IRISH.

In the Opinion of the "Chronicle" He Has Bitten Off too Large a Chew.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Concerning the Washington dispatch published this morning stating that the president would send John P. Irish, editor of the Alta of this city, to stump Oregon in the coming presidential canvass, the Chronicle will to-morrow say, editorially: Fortunately for Mr Cleveland, his chosen emissary is not speedy enough to "get there." He cannot do what he is sent to do—for the same reason that the old man said his horse could not trot in 2:20, the distance was too great for the time. Our eloquent friend will do all that in him lies, and angels could do no more but he cannot persuade the sober-thinking, sensible, hard headed people of Oregon that they are being ruined by having the government of the United States protect their growing industries. They will decline to assent to the proposition that a state having 2,030,000 sheep, valued at $4,987,000, can be benefited by a measure which would bring the cheap wool of Australia and Argentine Republic into direct competition with the home product. They may call the attention of the free trade orator if they will, to the fact that 84,225,000 sheep of Australasia and 99,028,000 sheep of South America, are grown and pastured on no man's land, whereas their own must be fed from land having a money value, and they may ask him whether it would be fair to them to permit them to be swamped and flooded by a tidal wave of foreign wool, simply because Mr. Cleveland has made an egregious mistake as to the effect of the tariff on the cost of woolen clothes. When he gets upon the subject of wool and iron, however as he must in spite of his dexterity, it will be interesting to see how he will go to work to prove that Oregon would be better without her flocks of sheep and her iron mines, or how he will persuade the Oregonians that it would be good policy to close down the woolen mills at Brownsville and Oregon City and the iron furnaces and other works at Oswego. This will put the gentleman to his trumps, and make him show his best gait.

HOTELS IN CALIFORNIA.

First Class Accommodations Go Hand in Hand with Booms.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—This evening's Bulletin, taking for its text remarks made here a day or two since by an eastern tourist agent, that the great need of the northern part of the state is good hotels, where there can be procured good food and comfortable quarters has the following to say, editorially: "It would not be very difficult to prove perhaps, that the construction of one of the largest caravansaries in the state, adjacent to Los Angeles provided with the best accommodations for guests had a tremendous influence in turning the tide of eastern tourists toward California, and in that way was, in a measure, instrumental in bringing about the wonderful development which, at a later period, has occurred in the southern section of the state. Those of little faith who shook their heads significantly at the laying of the foundation of that vast hotel on the site of a farmer's bee ranch, lived to see it crowded with eastern tourists on the day of opening. Hotel building has kept abreast of the times in that quarter of the state ever since. No new settlement is laid out without first establishing a site for a good hotel. Frequently the hotel is the first building to go up. It constitutes the nucleus of the new town that clusters rapidly around it. San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and San Diego counties are full of striking illustrations of the value of hotel building as an agent in the development of settlement. Hotel builders have converted the sandy and unproductive sand-pits lying between San Diego bay and the sea into a thing of beauty, making it the site of a growing and enterprising town, provided with all the conveniences and accommodations of modern times, for community use and comfort and giving a fabulous price to land that only three or four years ago was considered of little value."

ACCIDENT TO A FLYER.

A Broken Rail Causes Trouble on the Central Pacific.

ECHO, NEV., March 8.—An east bound passenger train called the "flyer," was wrecked at Otego last night. It is said with fatal results. The cause was a broken rail. A construction train passed here at 4 o'clock this morning with orders to rush through regardless of other trains. The train from the East, due here this morning, was detained at the scene of the accident and may arrive at noon, when particulars can be obtained.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A dispatch received at the railroad office in this city in regard to the accident at Otego, Nevada says: That the trouble was occasioned by a broken rail derailing the two rear sleepers. The passengers in these two cars were given a severe shaking, and a number received slight bruises. G. D. Decamp and wife are reported as more seriously injured. The cars were damaged to such an extent that they had to be replaced by others sent down from a neighboring station. The train proceeded on its way several hours behind time.

DAMAGE SLIGHT.

ELKO, NEV., March 8.—The west bound express reached here at 6 this evening twelve hours late. It was delayed by an accident to the east bound express at Otego last night. It is now learned that three cars of the latter train left the rails, and personal injuries are limited to severe contusions.

HARD UP FOR SYMPATHY.

NOGALES, A. T., March 8.—Porferco Polo, a Mexican custom guard, shot and stabbed, while on duty a few nights ago, has made a full confession. He says he did the shooting and stabbing himself, reporting that it was done by robbers. He did it to ingratiate himself with the commandant, so as to hold his position. He says the reported robbery some weeks ago, while he was on duty, was a similar scheme of his own concocting. The government has spent large sums in keeping posses out searching for the supposed robbers.

WASHOUTS ON THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Trains from the south are delayed in consequence of washouts on the Southern Pacific. It was reported by telegraph to the railroad company's general office in this city to-day, from Dos Palmos, that a heavy rainfall between that place and Indio, as well as beyond the latter point, had rendered the track unsafe. It will have to be repaired before trains can run over it. At the time the dispatch was sent it was still raining and there was a likelihood of damage to the tracks.

REDUCTION IN SUGAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The California and the American sugar refineries to-day reduced their price one quarter of a cent a pound on all grades of sugar. During the month of February imports were 32,142,965 pounds, the largest importation in one month since March 1887, hence the refineries are in a good position to make war on rates.

FOR THE NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The revenue cutter Rush left port to-day for a northern cruise. It is reported that she will be around Drake's bay, for possible smugglers.

A DEATH-LIKE SINKING SPELL

But the Dying Ruler Again Rallies, and at 2 O'Clock This Morning Was Sleeping Soundly—The News in London

BERLIN, March 8.—11 A. M.—Doctors Leuthold and Tillmann remained with the emperor throughout the night. The grand duke and duchess of Baden and the crown princess of Sweden arrived this morning in a special train. The emperor recognized his daughter, the grand duchess of Baden. Prince Bismarck is at the palace. Count Von Stolberg Wernigerode, court chamberlain, is also present. The following bulletin was issued at 10:40 this morning:

"The emperor had a very restless night, and is very weak this morning. VON LAUER."

At noon all the members of the imperial family except the crown prince and crown princess, were in a room adjoining that occupied by the emperor.

At 12:25 Chaplain Koegel gave the last sacrament to the emperor.

The emperor was occasionally delirious before noon. Prince Bismarck visited the reichstag at 12:30 P. M.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the empress and grand duchess of Baden were with the emperor.

At 2 o'clock Prince Bismarck went to the bedside and the emperor spoke to him. His condition was then unchanged. The prince left the palace at 2:45.

4 P. M.—The emperor is not now able to recognize even the empress, and is gradually sinking. An immense but silent crowd is standing near the palace, notwithstanding that a cold rain is falling. The palace is guarded by a force of cavalry. Business in the town is virtually suspended, and the theaters are closed.

PRINCE WILLIAM'S CREDENTIALS.

BERLIN, March 8.—An imperial decree, signed on November 17, was promulgated to-day. It provides for the representation of the emperor and king by Prince William in the discharge of current government business.

Following is the text of the imperial decree promulgated to-day, declaring Prince William to be representative of the emperor in state affairs

"Considering the uncertain state of my health, which compels me to temporarily abstain from the transaction of affairs, and in view of the illness and prolonged absence of my son, Frederick William, I charge your royal highness with all cases where I believe representation necessary in current government business, especially the signing of orders, without special order being requisite on every separate occasion."

A SWOON.

BERLIN, March 8.—The emperor fell into a swoon at 5 o'clock, and remained unconscious until 6 o'clock. He afterwards went into a quiet sleep, which lasted till 7 o'clock. Wine and other liquid nourishment are administered to him occasionally.

ALIVE AT NINE O'CLOCK.

BERLIN, Mar 8.—An official bulletin issued at 9 o'clock this evening announces that the emperor lives, and that, on the whole, his condition is more tranquil. The bulletin has reassured the people, although they are intensely excited by reports of his death which have been published in newspaper extras.

THERE STILL IS HOPE.

BERLIN, March 8.—During the afternoon sitting of the reichstag Prince Bismarck received an urgent summons to hasten to the palace. He was told the emperor was dying. The doctors have not abandoned all hope of his recovery.

IS HE DEAD?

LONDON, March 8.—No bulletins were posted at the German embassy this evening. Count von Hatzfeldt professed to have received no official information of the death of the emperor. A dispatch from Paris says Le Jour (newspaper) states that the emperor died at 5 P. M.

PROFOUND INTEREST IN LONDON.

LONDON, March 8.—The stock exchange and continental bourses were flat to-day, and operators maintained an expectant attitude.

The German embassy in London is besieged by callers who are anxious to hear about the emperor's condition.

The British foreign office at noon received an important and pressing telegram from Berlin respecting the emperor's critical condition.

The drawing room, which was to have been held to-morrow by the queen, has been postponed on account of the critical illness of Emperor William.

THE WIRES CROWDED.

LONDON, March 9—2 A. M. There is four or five hours delay in the receipt of dispatches from Berlin, owing to the crowded condition of the wires by the immense number of messages sent. It appears as if the announcement of Emperor William's death was due to the fainting spell, with which the emperor was seized between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, which had every appearance of death. All the Berlin papers announced his death late in the afternoon.

The Prince of Wales and Lord Salisbury were closeted with the queen last night until 11:30 o'clock. The result of the conference is not known. The queen will return to Windsor in the morning. The queen's "drawing room" and the silver wedding fetes of the Prince and Princess of Wales have been canceled.

EXCITEMENT AND CONFUSION.

LONDON, March 9.—Conflicting telegrams concerning the condition of Emperor William caused great excitement and confusion in all European capitals yesterday. Special dispatches from Berlin were everywhere devoured, and embassies were besieged by eager inquirers. At the German embassy in this city there was a continuous line of carriages the whole day long, filled with princes, peers and commoners, anxious to know the real state.

CONSCIOUS AT A LATE HOUR.

LONDON, March 9.—The queen has received a telegram, stating that Emperor William lay in a swoon from 5 to 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and then slept quietly another hour. Also that he is able to take liquid nourishment.

There was intense excitement in the lobbies of parliament over reports from Berlin. The house adjourned at the usual hour. A report is current that the foreign office had a bulletin saying the emperor was conscious at a late hour to-night.

KIND WORDS FROM PARIS.

PARIS, March 8.—La Liberte says: Among all classes of society the fate of the Emperor William and his son is a subject of the most sympathetic concern. We cannot longer regard as enemies that venerable monarch sinking into the grave, or the prince in the prime of life whose existence is ebbing away. We are irresistibly touched at their fate, and with the sacred volume reverently exclaim, "How are the mighty fallen!"

AT MADRID.

MADRID, March 8.—A painful feeling of depression prevails on account of the news from Berlin. Queen Christina is anxiously looking for bulletins. She has sent a message of sympathy to the empress.

THE CROWN PRINCE GOING HOME.

SAN REMO, March 8.—The crown prince will leave here Saturday. He was much agitated when he heard of the emperor's condition. He receives telegrams from Berlin about the emperor every half hour. Bismarck has telegraphed Dr. Mackenzie inquiring whether the crown prince could not come to Berlin instead of going to Wiesbaden, as proposed.

Prince Henry and Princess Charlotte, of Saxe-Meiningen, grandchildren of the emperor, and the grand duke of Hesse, will leave San Remo to-night for Berlin.

OPPOSING THE PHYSICIANS.

SAN REMO, March 8.—The crown prince will go to Berlin by the Brenner route. He will stay in Berlin no longer than is absolutely necessary, going afterwards to either Weisbaden or Homburg. Dr. Mackenzie will accompany him. The doctors are much opposed to the crown prince's return to Germany. The prince passed a good day to-day. He is much distressed over the news from Berlin.

THE CROWN PRINCE BETTER.

SAN REMO, March 8.—The German crown prince slept soundly all night and arose refreshed. He breakfasted with a good appetite. His condition continues improved.

REMARKABLE TENACITY.

The Emperor Sleeping Soundly at Two O'clock This Morning.

BERLIN, March 9—1 A. M.—The improvement in the emperor's condition continues. He is sleeping soundly, and his breathing is regular. He has taken substantial food, and appears to have a good appetite. He was given oysters and an egg and a little champagne and sherry. His pulse has fallen from 110 to 96. When awake, he is fully conscious, showing interest in what is passing around him. He asked the grand duchess of Baden, who sat by the bed, whether she had already dined, and with whom, and then asked why she had not dined with the empress. He expressed regret that he was "causing so much trouble."

Whether or not the improvement in the emperor's condition is permanent depends upon how he passes the small hours.

Many of the princes have now left the palace.

Thursday morning the emperor tried to sit up in bed. He shook hands with the empress who was seated by his bedside but was unable to speak to her. The courage and devotion of the empress are admirable. Ill and weak herself broken with sorrow and grief her efforts to cheer and console her husband have been unceasing.

At 9 A. M. the emperor spoke a few words to Prince William about an impending drill of the guards, but in a wandering manner. Prince Bismarck tried to speak to him but it was useless. The emperor soon fell into a swoon, and his pulse, which is usually 57, rose to 108, and he had fever. About midday he became conscious, and the sacrament was administered. Silent crowds stood outside the palace throughout the day. The scene was a deeply impressive one.

The emperor fell into such a state of collapse at 6 o'clock that the end was believed to be near, but he rallied at 6 o'clock and took nourishment and wine. The report of his death created the wildest excitement. Papers that published the report will be prosecuted. At 10 o'clock to-night people outside of the palace were wedged together in a dense crowd. The people refused to believe the denial of the emperor's death, thinking the fact was being concealed.

SLEEPING SOUNDLY.

2:10 A. M.—At 2 o'clock this morning all was quiet in the palace, and the emperor was sleeping soundly. There seemed to be some improvement. The empress and grand duchess of Baden remain with him throughout the night.

ENGLAND.

MITCHELL GOES OUT TO FIGHT.

LONDON, March 8.—Mitchell, accompanied by Pony Moore, Baronet Holske and fourteen others, left London at 11 o'clock this morning for France, where, it is supposed, the fight between Mitchell and Sullivan will take place. Mitchell said before leaving he did not know whether he would win, but he was quite sure that he would be able to show that Sullivan was not the fistic wonder that Americans thought him. Jem Smith missed the train and will follow the party on a later one. It is a significant fact that two detectives, who have been following Sullivan, left Boulogne yesterday evening for the place where the fighters and their friends are expected to meet.

THE QUEEN RETURNS TO LONDON.

LONDON, March 8.—The queen arrived in London this morning from Windsor, and sent to the German embassy to make inquiries concerning the emperor.

CANADA.

MANITOBA'S CLAIMS PRESENTED.

TORONTO, March 8.—Messrs Greenway and Martin, of the Manitoba government, had an interview to-day with Sir John MacDonald, to discuss the subject of their mission. It is understood they gave the premier to understand that they would accept nothing short of complete reversal of the policy hitherto pursued by the Dominion government with respect to the railroad monopoly and disallowance question, and full and free acknowledgment of Manitoba's right to charter railroads to the boundary line. The matters in dispute were discussed informally. No definite basis of settlement was reached, as the subject will have to be discussed by the cabinet.

THE INTER-PROVINCIAL RESOLUTIONS.

TORONTO, March 8.—The inter-provincial resolutions, which have been debated in the Ontario legislature for several days, were adopted last night. A resolution was also published which asked the lieutenant-governor to transmit the resolutions to the imperial government with the request that action be taken thereon.

CANADA'S INDIANS.

MONTREAL, March 8.—The report of the superintendent-general of Indian affairs has just been received. The total number of Indian reserves in Canada is 120 and the total number of aborigines under care of the government is 128,000.

CALIFORNIA.

THE HAMBERG PILCHER TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—When the trial of Pilcher and Hamberg, the half-interest swindlers charged with conspiracy to defraud F. M. Parker of $10,000, was resumed in court this morning the prosecution appeared with about twenty five volumes of various kinds. They were principally records in which references were made to Ellis's claim to the lot in city, and were produced to confute the contention of the defense that their right to the lot was valid.

F. M. Parker was again examined, and said Hamberg had told him he paid $10,000 for the lot.

In the afternoon Parker was recalled by the prosecution and said he gave $5575 for his ranch in Oregon and it was virtually free from litigation at the time he sold it.

The prosecution then rested, and Monday, in his opening statement for the defense, said he should prove that Parker was not such a fool as he looked, that he got land worth $40,000 for $3000 or $4000, that there was no combination between defendants, who acted independently, that Parker knew there were adverse claims against the property, although the title was good, and that the real estate business in Kearney street was paying when Parker entered it.

John G. Daly testified that real estate advertisements had been published by the firm in a morning paper right along, and the court then adjourned until to-morrow.

STEAMER NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The steamer City of Topeka, which recently arrived from Central American ports, is laid up. Rumor is current that the Oregon Development Company is making negotiations to charter her for the Yaquina bay trade. The company's steamer Eastern Oregon, which was recently attached, is lying in Oakland creek. The company has no use for her, as she does not fill the requirements of the trade. The only steamer now running is the Willamette.

The steamer Oregon left for Portland this morning at 10 o'clock. In order to get away on time quick work was necessary, and the stevedores had a lively time of it. She discharged 1800 tons of freight in nine and a half hours, and loaded the same quantity in a little less than nine hours, being about eighteen hours altogether. As the cargo was merchandise, and had to be sorted as it came ashore, the dispatch was extraordinary.

THE DIMMIG MURDER TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The taking of testimony in the case of John A. Dimmig, accused of the murder of Henry Benhayon, was concluded this afternoon and the case continued till Monday, when argument will be heard.

The Dimmig case will probably not go to the jury until Tuesday evening. It is said that there is little doubt that the state will try to prove that Dimmig induced his intimate friend, Robert Appel, ex-wood engraver, to assist in the production of the forged Benhayon letter, the motive to be shown in prisoner's connection with Dr Bowers. The defense will rely largely on the alibi set up, and the fact that deceased had frequent opportunities to obtain cyanide of potassium. It will also be claimed that the circumstance of his having lost his suit against Mrs Zeising two days before his death caused him to become despondent.

PERSONAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Ex Senator Kelly left overland for Portland last evening.

J. D. Fountain, merchant of Ashland, arrived in the city to-day.

Van B. DeLashmutt, of Portland, is at the Palace. He reports Oregon prosperous.

Editor Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World, is again in the city. His eyes have improved a good deal, and in a few days it is stated, he will take a steamer to the Hawaiian islands, and may possibly extend his trip to Japan.

A. S. Grant, a mining man, leaves shortly for Douglass island, Alaska, on mining business.

Gen John C. Fremont, the "Pathfinder," and Mrs Fremont are at Los Angeles.

C. W. Gray, owner of a linseed oil factory in Salem, is at the Lick.

SHIPPING.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Cleared: Steamers Mexico, Victoria, Wellington, Nanaimo, ship Red Cross, Port Townsend. Sailed: Steamers Al Ki, Nanaimo, Oregon, Portland, ships Two Brothers, Tacoma, Cyrus Wakefield, Port Townsend, bark Seminole, Tacoma.

RUSHING FREIGHT EAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The rush of freight to the East is so large, in anticipation of an advance of rates on March 10, that it is said some 250 cars of freight will be forwarded this week, of which 100 cars will be wine shipments.

THE WRECKED ALICE GARRATT.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The wreck of the Alice Garratt, which was overturned Sunday in the storm, was examined to-day by a diver, but he did not ascertain if her machinery is still in her. He will try again to-morrow.

KILLED BY A FALLING TREE.

HEALDSBURG, March 8.—Lorenzo Fava, engaged in clearing grape lands on the fruit farm of Col. R. H. Warfield, was accidentally killed last evening by a tree falling on him and crushing his head.

Now is the time to take a good spring medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the very best. 100 doses $1.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Should the Emperor William live to the 22d of the present month, he would be 91 years old. He was third son of Frederick William the Third, who was king of Prussia when that country, with the rest of continental Europe, fell under the colossal power of Napoleon. From his cradle he was destined for a soldier; was commissioned a lieutenant in the royal grenadiers when but 10 years old. At 17, as a captain, he rode by the side of Marshal Blücher, when the allied armies, in 1814, invaded France. At the battle of Bar-sur-Aube, in that year, he behaved with great gallantry, earning the military decoration of the Iron Cross. He entered Paris with the allies, and fought in the Belgian campaign of 1815, winning a major's commission at Waterloo. In 1829 he married Augusta, eldest daughter of the Duke of Weimar. On the death of his father in 1840, when his childless brother, Frederick William the Fourth, ascended the throne, Prince William was announced as crown prince. He placed himself at the head of the conservative party and became leader of the resistance to the liberal reform party of Germany. In 1848 Berlin rose in insurrection and for the blood shed in its suppression the crown prince was held responsible, and to save his brother's throne, and himself, he went into exile in England. The successful liberal party would not permit him to return until he gave solemn pledge of adhesion to the constitution which they had wrung from his brother. On his return he was sent with an army corps to crush the insurrection in Baden, which he did with an iron hand. In 1858 the mental condition of Frederick William the Fourth forced William to accept the regency, and in 1861 he became king of Prussia.

The moment he became regent he began the military reorganization of Prussia. Manteuffel and Von Roon were his executives in the war office and Von Moltke was placed at the head of the general staff. When the Austrians were beaten by the French at Solferino in 1859 Prussia threatened to join her forces to those of Austria, if France pursued her success beyond Italian territory, and thus forced Napoleon to sign the treaty of Villa Franca. This action of Regent William was astute, as Austria was weakened and her prestige decreased, while Prussia rose in consequence as peacemaker, and William became popular both in Prussia and in all Germany.

When William became king in 1861 he soon quarreled with his ministers and in 1862 dismissed them and intrusted his government to Count von Bismarck. Then came the war with Denmark over Schleswig-Holstein, the capture of Duppel and the defeat of the Danes. In 1866 came the struggle with Austria for supremacy. King William was present at Sadowa July 3. Three times his officers asked permission to retreat; Moltke said the Prussian troops could hold out but half an hour longer, but before that time had elapsed an army corps, under the present crown prince appeared, the battle was won, and the fate of Europe was changed. The candidacy of Prince Hohenzollern for the Spanish throne was the final red rag flaunted in the face of Napoleon the Third, that left him no choice but to declare war with Germany or face a revolution. When that war of 1870-71 was ended William entered Paris as conqueror for the third time, and when he re-entered Berlin at the head of the army June 16, 1871, it was no longer as king of Prussia, but as emperor of Germany. That was his last campaign and since that time he has devoted himself to the perfection of the military force of his empire.

Emperor William's son, the crown prince, is slowly dying of cancer; and it is probable that during his invalidism Prussia will be under the regency of Prince William, eldest son of the crown prince, who is 29 years of age, a major-general in the Prussian army, a thorough soldier, popular with both the army and the people.

A FOOLISH TALE.

The statement, recently published in the Omaha Republican under the signature of Ward H. Lamon, that President Lincoln wrote to General McClellan two weeks before the presidential election of November 1864 suggesting that he retire from the canvass and allow Mr. Lincoln's election to be as nearly unanimous as possible is undoubtedly without foundation of fact. Lincoln was too shrewd a politician not to see that McClellan could not be expected to accept such proposition under the circumstances, and it is totally impossible that Lincoln as late as the 20th of October, 1864, would have stooped to offer McClellan a bribe to do this absurd thing. Lamon says that "the compensations to Gen. McClellan and his party for the timely relinquishment of a mere shadow were to be McClellan's immediate elevation to be general of the army, the appointment of his father-in-law, Marcy, to be major-general, and the very substantial recognition of the democracy which must necessarily have followed these arrangements." The Confederacy at that time was clearly doomed, Sherman had captured Atlanta and was preparing to push for Savannah. Sheridan had completely defeated Early in the valley. To elevate McClellan to the generalship of the army and to promote his father-in-law to be major-general in order to get McClellan to surrender a shadow would have been an act of baseness and folly that Lincoln was both too wise and too pure to commit. Such a proposition would have been spurned by McClellan as an insult, and yet Lamon says Lincoln wrote such a letter and that Frank P. Blair placed it in McClellan's hands.

If we remember right Frank P. Blair was not in Washington at this time; he was with Sherman in command of the 17th army corps; but whether he was or not no such idiotic letter was ever written by Lincoln and transmitted to McClellan. Lincoln was incapable of so base and crazy a proposition as to offer under his own name a bribe to McClellan, and too shrewd a man not to know that in politics you cannot buy the race by bribing your rival to withdraw his horse. To buy the race when you are absolutely sure to beat the other horse is what no man on the turf would do. Lincoln was neither a fool nor a knave, and he would have been both had he ever transmitted to General McClellan such a letter as Lamon describes.

Lamon does not seem to be able to discover that the consummation of such a bargain was impracticable, but had it been practicable it would have covered both Lincoln and McClellan with ineffaceable infamy.

A LONG LIFE.

William, emperor of Germany, during his long life, has probably seen the most marvelous social and political changes that ever occurred within the experience of a single man. When he was born Napoleon was engaged in his first great victorious campaign against the Austrians in Italy, George the Third was king of England; Wm. Pitt was his prime minister; Paul I was emperor of Russia; John Adams was president of the United States; Mexico was a Spanish and Brazil a Portugese dependency. Emperor William could remember the battle of Jena and the death of Pitt and of Fox; he was 18 years old when Waterloo was won, and our war of 1812 closed; he was 27 when Byron died. The whole literary life of the nineteenth century since 1825 was part of his intelligent memory. When he had reached his majority Goethe, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Keats, Moore, Scott, Lamb, Shelley, were in the plenitude of their great powers; George Canning was prime minister of England, and James Monroe president of the United States. When he was born, wind was the only motive power at sea, and stage coaches on land; he was 10 years old when Fulton's steamer made its first trip up the Hudson; he was more than 30 when Stephenson invented the locomotive; he was more than 40 when the electric telegraph was invented, and nearly 70 when the Atlantic cable was an accomplished fact. He was 12 years old when Gladstone was born, and 55 when the Duke of Wellington died. He has seen the slave trade, which was in full activity all the world over, when he was born, become extinct; he has seen a Russian emperor by a single stroke of his pen burst the bonds of millions of serfs; he was 35 years of age before England emancipated her slaves in the West Indies, and he was 64 years old before our civil war opened, which ended in emancipation. He has seen Greece and United Italy born into the family of nations, and he was 74 when he was crowned emperor of Germany at Versailles in 1871. Webster, Clay and Calhoun had not risen to national prominence when William was 21; he was 29 when Adams and Jefferson died; he was 55 when Webster passed from earth. A long life for one who, born a king's son, was in public life for more than 80 years. In the main it has been a remarkably healthy and happy life, for William, if not for those he governed. According to his lights Emperor William was a good sovereign, for one bred an absolutist from the cradle. Bismarck was his good genius, and yet William must have had a sound, elevated and superior understanding to have accurately measured Bismarck, when he was comparatively obscure, to have called him to his side and wholly trusted him from first to last. It takes a superior mind accurately to measure men; superior sense to know when you get sound advice, superior courage and resolution to take good advice, even when you know that it is good. The longest political lives in America of vast and varied experience were those of John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin. Lord Lyndhurst and Lord John Russell were longest in the field of English politics—Lyndhurst addressing the house of lords when he was past 90. Victor Hugo's career covered more years of surpassing interest than any Frenchman who has died in this century, for he could remember Moscow and Leipsic and survived Sedan fifteen years.

OUR MILITARY STRENGTH.

The latest returns in the possession of the war department as to the country's available military strength puts the total for service at 8,021,605, exclusive of the regular army, which is less than 25,000 effective. The enrolled militia consists of but 100,887 men. Here are some interesting figures:

	No. of Union soldiers.	No. now liable to military duty.
Six New England States	364,162	607,331
Five Atlantic States	897,763	1,687,087
Seven Central Western States	1,023,679	2,459,901
Western States & Territories	40,253	705,008
Pacific States & Territories	10,579	267,395
Total	2,331,420	5,667,815

The great growth is in the West, from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean. This whole region was credited with but 59,832 soldiers in the Union army, while it is now accredited with 972,403 men liable to military service. All that is wanted is to make our standing army 50,000 strong, not because we need that force at present, but because we need at least that number of trained officers and men to leaven rapidly the lump of our popular levies should we ever become involved in war with a great foreign enemy.

The first year of the civil war counted for little, because it had to be spent by both sides in marshaling and setting up into soldiers our raw levies. Had our army then been 50,000 strong instead of less than 10,000, we could have mingled its trained officers and men with the mass of our volunteers and been as fit for battle by the first of August, 1861, as we were by the first of April, 1862. We are penny wise not to make the regular army large enough in time of peace so that its trained bands, sifted through the mass of raw volunteers in event of war, could rapidly "set them up" into soldiers. Some day we shall know more, but we fear it will not be, until a great war actually comes upon us and we find ourselves as helpless as we were in 1861. The American volunteer is so intelligent that a few trained officers can do wonders in drilling and disciplining a regiment in thirty days. We have the finest raw material in the world, but in event of a great war with a foreign power we could not "bushwhack" the enemy back to their ships with an untrained mass of enthusiastic "corn-stalk" militia. We did not do that, even during the revolutionary war or in 1812. Behind breastworks the American yeomanry made a good fight, but it was the work that Steuben wrought in drilling and disciplining our troops that enabled Washington, Arnold, Wayne and Greene to face the British regulars in the field.

Though a great war with a great power of Europe is not among our probabilities yet, it is among our possibilities, and for this reason we need a standing army of 50,000 men. A people of 60,000,000 are not foolish enough to fear an army of this size, and a people of 60,000,000 need a trained standing army of at least these numbers to leaven the lump of her volunteers in event of a great war. We cannot rely on our trained militia to furnish drill sergeants, much less disciplinarians for our popular levies, because the American people are too busy to take any deep interest in the fate of their enrolled militia.

ORLANDO FURIOSO.

Col. E. B. C. Cash, the famous South Carolina duelist, is dead. Col. Cash was a Confederate soldier, but his fame rests on his career as a duelist and fire-eater. He was a most fantastic fighting fellow; if a man did but frown and bite his thumb as he passed by this redoubtable colonel instantly became a fiery Tybalt, shooting right and left to make a funeral. He had killed half a dozen men since the war, two of them negroes who had roused his temper, but his most conspicuous victim was his old friend and neighbor, Col. Wm. M. Shannon, an aged lawyer, whom he challenged for words spoken by Shannon as counsel in a civil case against Cash. Shannon did not believe in the code, and was so short sighted that he could not hit a barn, while Cash was a dead shot. Shannon offered every reasonable explanation, but Cash refused to withdraw his challenge, and threatened, if Shannon refused, to cowhide him at every opportunity and post him as a coward. Shannon was forced into the field; he fired, and his ball struck the dust at his own feet. Then Cash took deliberate aim and shot the old man dead. Even the South Carolina fighting code could not stand this, and the local press denounced Cash as a brute. Then followed an exhibition of the ludicrous side of this tragedy, for Cash wrote and published a pamphlet defending his conduct. In this extraordinary document he seemed only anxious to relieve himself of the charge that when Col. Shannon touched his hat to him he did not answer the salutation: "If Col. Shannon touched his hat I did not observe it, for I would have instantly answered the salutation of a gallant foe and an old time friend." He dilated on his personal respect for the man he murdered, saying that they had been so intimate that they frequently laughed over the fact that a certain personal resemblance caused them to be often mistaken for each other. Then Cash described the duel and concluded by saying: "Col. Shannon fell, as that gallant gentleman would have wished to fall, with his face to the front before the ramparts of his enemy. What better death could any brave man wish for than die on the field of honor by the hand of a man of honor?" This fantastic kind of fire-eater is fast disappearing from the South, where he was once a very blood plant, lifting its head amid the other noxious weeds of slavery. Cash educated his son, Boggan Cash, to imitate his armed resistance to the officers of the law. The son, in 1883, murdered a marshal, and was killed resisting arrest, and since that date Col. Cash has lived in sullen retirement, hating the local authorities, and feared and hated by them. Such men are but the survivals of a civilization that is generally dead at the South, if not actually buried, and the history of Cash is a grim reminder of the brutal character of the slave civilization of which such creatures as Cash were the natural growth. Such men were local heroes thirty years ago, but to-day this old-time type of South Carolina chivalry is treated by the Southern press with as little respect as Orlando Furioso.

Last Saturday, 3d inst., Gen. Ben. Harrison was interviewed at Omaha. He declined to speak of candidates on the republican side, but talked freely of issues. The Mills tariff bill, he thinks, will never pass the house in anything like its present form, because it should not. The chief issues of the campaign will be a free ballot and the tariff, and the result will be the election of the republican candidate. Cleveland, he thinks, will be renominated, because he is a necessity to the democratic party.

Col. John P. Irish, of Californian, is a lively speaker, but if he comes to Oregon for President Cleveland, to make the state go democratic in June on the president's platform of free trade in wool and protection to woolens, of complaint of excessive surplus in the treasury and yet of denial of necessary appropriations for our rivers and harbors, it may be feared he will have a hard time of it. The job he undertakes will require him to work his sub-maxillary at a lively rate.

The Chicago Journal thinks that if the Mills tariff bill as it came from the committee should be adopted, within two years the "surplus" would be twice what it is now, "since it is the rule the world around, that reduced import duties increase the total of revenues."

The British parliament is no longer an all-night body. By a recent change in the rules the sessions will hereafter extend from 3 P. M. until 1 A. M., except upon rare occasions.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ROWS AMONG CHINESE.—Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Parrish detailed ten officers to Chinatown to prevent the denizens of that portion of the city from collecting in crowds and ultimately becoming involved in quarrels. Much better feeling has been engendered lately by the arrest of a number of Chinese for various offenses. Detective Barry says the whole trouble is the result of the recent arrest of Mah Wee on a trumped up charge of robbing a countryman of $83. Mah Wee has always been friendly to the police, and for this affinity one faction, desiring to get rid of him, agreed to pay another crowd $100 in coin and 30,000 firecrackers if they should succeed in landing the obnoxious Wee in the penitentiary. The effort failed, and crowd No. 1 refused to pay the reward, and faction No. 2 retaliated by causing the arrest of a number of men and women belonging to the first faction. Charges and counter-charges have been made, and eleven complaints have been filed with the district attorney. One Chinaman alone desired to make fifty complaints for vagrancy against as many of his countrymen. This foolishness will be kept up till another Chinese murder is committed and then the three fellows now under sentence of death will be hanged, and if a few more of the same stamp can be disposed of in the same manner there will be quiet in Chinatown for a while.

CORDAGE WORKS IN OPERATION.—The factory of the Portland Cordage Company is now running and manila and sisle hemp stock has been coming in until now there is $50,000 worth of it on hand in the warehouse and factory. Mr. W. B. Ayer, the obliging manager of the works, said to an OREGONIAN representative yesterday, that they were just getting the machines into running order, and as fast as men can be taught how to manipulate the several carders, twisters, frames, etc., the force of men will be constantly increased until the full complement of thirty hands is employed. This will take about six weeks. There are twenty hands at work now and a number of the machines are in operation turning out a fine quality of rope, which is sold as fast as it comes from the reels, and orders have already been received which will keep the factory busy for many months. Mr. Ayer then went through the entire factory, showing and explaining all the complicated machines, and interesting, yet simple process of rope-making. The tar room was redolent with the pungent, resinous odor of pine tar, and the long vat was full of the black, sticky stuff, which was cooling off, a batch of rope having just gone through it. One of the most conspicuous features of the factory, is its extreme cleanliness, a virtue which pervades alike the engine room, machinery floors, office and warehouse.

ABATE THE NUISANCE.—This city is cursed with a plague of useless, worthless dogs which make night hideous with barking and howling, and destroy the peace of mind and rest of the citizens. The attention of Deputy Poundmaster Henry Wilmer is called to this nuisance and he is requested to begin the work of extermination at once. Just why any respectable citizen wants to keep a dog which is good for nothing but to loaf around all night and bay the moon or a street lamp or anything else that attracts its attention, for hours, is one of those things which no fellow can find out. People who pay a license for that purpose are allowed to keep a dog, no matter how worthless the animal is, but they must not suppose that they can allow their curs to annoy other people. If a man has not enough respect for the rights of others to keep his dog from disturbing the whole neighborhood at night, he should be arrested and fined and the dog killed. Mr. Wilmer will please hunt up his nets and lariats and do something at once toward ridding the city of useless curs and if he should take the fool killer along with him, there would probably be less of these dogs kept in the future.

TURNING OUT YOUNG SALMON.—Fish Commissioner Thompson returned yesterday from a visit to the Clackamas hatchery and reports everything going along "swimmingly." Over a million fry have already been turned out from the establishment so far this year, and there are about 200,000 left. A novel and effective plan has been adopted to remove the young fish from the spawning bins to the buckets in which they are carried to the river. A piece of rubber pipe is formed into a syphon, and when the current of water has started through the pipe a man moves its mouth through the bins, selecting the fish large enough, when the moment they are near the pipe they are whisked up and carried on with the water into the bucket. This plan facilitates matters wonderfully and saves many fish which would be otherwise killed in handling them. When placed in the river they are not all put in the water at the same place, but men carry them in these buckets up and down the river, sometimes going several miles from the hatchery.

GONE HOME.—The Ban Douran, which started for sea yesterday morning, carried over three thousand tons of wheat. With the exception of the Hahnemann, this is the largest cargo to leave port this year. A prominent figure among the Douran's crew was the athletic form of Angus McLeod, of the lost Abercorn, while sitting on the rail near him was the grizzled old tar Robert Rankin. Of the gallant crew of twenty-seven men who sailed away from England on the Abercorn last September, these two are the only ones that will return to tell of the awful fate of their companions. It would seem to the average landsmen that an experience they have just passed through would have a tendency to keep them ashore for a while, but they are true Britishers, and the same spirit they show by again facing the dangers of the deep is what has placed old England in her position as ruler of the seas.

THE DALLES STEAMBOAT LINE.—The Columbia Navigation Company will commence receiving freight to-morrow on the Washington street wharf for The Dalles and way landings, and will begin running its boat next Monday according to the advertisement in another column. If the government had not been so stingy with its appropriations for river improvements, Portland would now have dozens of lines of boats running far into the interior. Although this line reaches only as far as The Dalles, and consequently can expect only a limited local business, it should be appreciated as an additional route to Portland. Its managers and principal owners have been engaged in steamboating on the Columbia for from twenty-five to thirty years, and will doubtless secure a fair share of river business.

FEBRUARY WEATHER BULLETIN.—The February weather bulletin of the signal service, division of the Pacific, was received from San Francisco yesterday, showing that the month was marked by the absence of violent storms on the Pacific coast, unusually high temperatures, and light rainfall in all districts. The rainfall was far below the average for February along the coast. The deficiency was greatest in Western Washington territory, where it amounted to five and one-half inches. Along the coast of Oregon and California the deficiency was about three inches. The rainfall, in inches, for the season to March 1 is as follows: Olympia 40.66, Walla Walla 12.30, Spokane Falls 13.70, Portland 30.68, Roseburg 25.19.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.—The grand jury yesterday returned indictments against C. M. Harding and Pearl Page, charged with robbing E. Dickenson of $340 and a gold watch and chain. Not a true bill was returned in the case of B. G. McGoon, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from James Ray. Harding and Page were arraigned in the criminal court, and will plead to-day. A. J. Wiley, who so brutally assaulted Nelson Hoyt and J. M. Leavens, last November, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty, and will be sentenced to-day. John Lane pleaded guilty to stealing an overcoat from B. Gildner, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

WRECK TO BE RAISED.—Capt. T. K. Johnson was at work on the wreck of the steamer Gleaner nearly all day yesterday, says the Pioneer. A powerful pump has been fitted up on the Favorite for sluicing the sand away from the hull, and works very successfully, only it is difficult to do anything on the flood tide, as the current is not strong enough to sweep the sand away from the hull after it is stirred up by the pump. Johnson succeeded in getting a chain under the bow, and will have one under the stern by this evening. No further trace of any of the bodies has been discovered, as it is almost impossible to see anything with the current running as strong as it does there.

GIVEN UP FOR LOST.—The British, iron, bark, Glenavon, Captain Tarney, which sailed from the Columbia on the 22d of August last, for Liverpool, has been given up for lost. It is 200 days since she sailed, and she was last spoken off the Western islands, on December 21st. The ship which spoke her arrived in England January 19th, but nothing has been seen or heard of the Glenavon. She was 1008 tons register and was owned by R. C. Hale, of Cork. She was dispatched by Messrs. Taylor, Young & Co., of this city, and carried a cargo of salmon, flour, wheat and oil, valued at $260,000. Mr. Omega Post, son of a Salem druggist, was a passenger on the Glenavon.

EXCELSIOR FACTORY BURNED.—At 2:45 yesterday afternoon a fire was discovered in the drying room of Schneider & Co.'s excelsior factory, on Multnomah street, in the extreme southern part of the city, and in a very short time the entire building was in flames. An alarm from station 51 brought a portion of the fire department to the scene, but nothing could be done, owing to the lack of water, and the factory burned to the ground. The hook-and-ladder company tore down fences and sheds and prevented the flames from spreading. The total loss was about $5500; no insurance.

MR. FOOTNER'S NEW POSITION.—Some time since W. J. Footner, general superintendent of the Northern Pacific Express Company, resigned, and Assistant Superintendent H. H. Browning, of this city, was appointed his successor. At the time it was thought that Mr. Footner's resignation was the result of differences with the officials of the company. This belief has been dispelled by the receipt of news of Mr. Footner's appointment as manager of express traffic of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba road.

ACCEPTED AGENCIES.—J. E. Tibbetts, well known to the business community of Portland, has been appointed agent for the Northwest for the following houses: Lovell, Tracy & Co., Hartford, Connecticut, oils; Anderson Harris Carriage Company, Cincinnati, Ohio; New Castle (Pa.) Wire Nail Company; Phillips, Wunick & Co., Sligo Rolling Mills, Pittsburg. To these he will add other Eastern houses while absent in the East, and on his return to Portland will have an office where his customers can find him when he is not out rustling for orders.

TO RAISE THE BENTLEY.—Capt. J. L. Smith of the steamer N. S. Bentley, which struck a snag and sunk two miles below Lincoln, the other day, came to the city yesterday to let a contract to some person to raise the boat. He says the stern of the Bentley is lying in four and one-half feet of water, while the bow is exposed. There is an opening about fifty feet long and from one to three feet wide on the starboard side. The steamer will be raised and repaired as soon as possible.

CANNOT FISH IN THE KLAMATH.—Since the commencement of the salmon fishing season there last fall, trouble has been reported at R. D. Hume's cannery, on the Klamath, his cannery being finally torn down by the U. S. army, after which he moved into the river, on the 28th ult. A U. S. marshal captured the cannery in the river, and determined effort seems to be making to keep him or anyone else from fishing in the Klamath, which stream it is claimed belongs to the Indians.

WANT A STRAIGHT LINE.—Mr. E. Oliver, an agent of the water committee, is busy getting rights of way for the pipe line from Bull Run to this city, in order to have everything in readiness when the time arrives to bring Bull Run water to the city, if such is ever the case. The committee now has a right of way along the county road, which is crooked, and finds that considerable distance can be saved by cutting through private property.

TO BE BUILT OF STONE.—The trustees of the First Presbyterian church held a meeting yesterday and instructed Architect W. E. McCaw to proceed at once and build the church on Tenth and Alder streets of stone. It is the intention to finish the chapel first and have it ready for occupancy as soon as possible. The chapel will front on Alder street and will be 51x50 feet. It will seat 450. Work on the church will begin in a short time.

WAREHOUSE BURNED.—Railroad Contractor G. W. Hunt, who is in the city, received a dispatch last evening announcing that the warehouse of Hamilton Job & Co., at Corvallis, caught fire at 2:30 P. M. and burned to the ground. Mr. Hunt had a large quantity of hay stored in the warehouse, and his loss is from $2500 to $3000, fully insured. The total loss will reach about $5000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

PARLOR FURNITURE.—The latest styles shown in parlor suits consist of odd pieces, all upholstered different. We notice a very handsome set in the show-window of S. Shindler & Co's., upholstered in silk brocatelle, trimmed with silk plush biscuit border. Their new folding beds are meeting with a large sale. Price goods in their line before attending auction sales.

CYCLORAMA EXCURSIONS.—Yesterday the narrow gauge road brought in another excursion of visitors to see the Gettysburg cyclorama. They came from Dallas and points this side. The fame of this great painting is rapidly spreading, as the eagerness of the people to see it attests. On Monday next there will be an excursion from Sheridan.

PORTLAND MERCHANT TAILORING PARLORS.—Arrived to-day, from A. Ochel, of London and New York, all the latest designs in spring and summer suitings, which we shall have great pleasure in showing our customers. Nelmeyer & Lane, cutters.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla will remove that tired feeling, and give new life and energy.

Ready-made Clothing.
The Suits which we manufacture for this department are made for the express purpose of supplying the wants of gentlemen who, believing that the best is the cheapest, are willing to pay a fair price for garments that have been made from carefully selected, thoroughly tested, honest materials, and by skillful, intelligent, well paid labor.
Prudent people deal with us, knowing that the prices we put on our goods are, considering quality, always the lowest. They know, also, that we put before them no old stock, but strictly new goods in their season.
Spring Suits
Although we have had but little real spring weather as yet, our sales of Light-Weight Suits have surpassed our greatest expectations, compelling us to telegraph East for immediate supplies. This is not so surprising when you consider that our display this spring has never been equaled in the Northwest for Elegance and Quality, while prices are lower than ever before.
Some men usually have poor luck in finding ready-made clothing to fit. They come in here with an expression of incredulity as they say, "Let's see those Spring Overcoats or Suits you advertise." The expression becomes one of satisfaction the moment the gentleman beholds in a mirror how perfectly the garments fit, and he is at once convinced that he can get of us just what he wants in the way of a Spring Suit or Light-weight Overcoat.

It is earnestly recommended that all organized counties hold the County Conventions at an early day. Be first in the field with your county tickets, and all unorganized counties are requested to hold Mass Conventions, make nominations, elect your delegates. Take your places like men and women engaged in our cause, for God, our homes and common country. Remember the early abolitionists who stood for God and country, and take courage. G. W. DIMICK.

THE END NOT YET.

A Decision by the Rock Island That Pleases Arthur.

BURLINGTON FREIGHT REJECTED

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Carries Its Complaint into Court—A Strong Fight Probable—Strike Notes.

CHICAGO, March 8.—General Manager Stone of the Burlington road, to-day addressed a letter to General Manager St. John of the Rock Island, in which, referring to the declination of the latter road to receive freight from them, he asked that reasons for the non-intercourse be stated. In reply General Manager St. John sent the following letter to Mr Stone:

"That there may be no misunderstanding as to the position of the C R I & P Railroad Company in regard to exchange of traffic with the C, B & Q. Railroad Company I desire to add to my hastily written note of the 8th instant the following. This company is willing to perform all duties imposed upon it by law as a common carrier and will do so when able. It will not refuse to perform such duties to all because it is rendered by circumstances for which it is not responsible unable to perform them as to one. It will not suspend the operation of its entire line and inflict incalculable injustice on communities dependent upon it for transportation because circumstances render it impossible for it to exchange traffic with another railway company. Its engineers and firemen positively refuse to handle freight received from or delivered to your road. We have done nothing to induce this resolution. To discharge them would not enable us to exchange with you while it would render it impossible to carry for anybody else. We occupy no attitude of non intercourse but do refuse to injure all of our patrons because we cannot help you. I cannot see how the bringing about of a general suspension of the operation of railroads in the West can aid you in your present struggle while I can see that it would work great injury to the country. We are not willing to attempt the impossible with a knowledge that the attempt will injure many and benefit none."

ARTHUR'S OPINION OF THE LETTER.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Far overshadowing in importance, said Chief Arthur to-night, summing up the result of the day's battle, far above the incident of the Burlington's attempt to seek relief in the courts, is the stand taken this evening by the big Rock Island system. The letter sent by General Manager St. John boldly declaring that he would not inflict great injury upon communities depending on his road in an attempt to do the impossible, is very significant indeed and perhaps contains the key to the situation. It is a good manly letter and carries out the Rock Island pledge of neutrality."

"You may be sure," edged in Chief Sargent, who stood nearby, "that that letter will not be without its effect upon the general managers of other roads."

Chief Arthur dismissed, as if of comparative unimportance, the petition filed by the Burlington managers to-day for an injunction against him. "If the court enjoins me from doing certain things," said he, "most assuredly I will not do them."

"That will not prevent other members of the Brotherhood from doing certain things would it?" queried a bystander. Arthur did not reply to this question but resumed consideration of St. John's letter, which he seemed to enjoy.

BEFORE THE COURTS

The C. B & Q. Asks for an Important Restraining Order

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Chicago Burlington & Quincy railroad appealed to Judge Gresham this morning for an order requiring the receiver of the court appointed herein and his agents and officers and employes to perform their duties as a public carrier as respects traffic with such petitioner and also for an order restraining the association commonly called the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and especially one P M. Arthur its chief executive officer, from in any way giving orders to any of the engineers of said receiver.

The road also asked for an order to punish Chief Arthur for contempt of court in unlawfully interfering with the administration of property in the custody of the court in this case. The court ordered the petition together with the affidavit and papers filed and the application was set for hearing March 9 at 2 o'clock. The road referred to is the Wabash.

A STRONG FIGHT PROBABLE.

It is understood that Gen McNulta will simply remain passive in the matter. A strong fight in court against the Burlington petition will be made nevertheless. It will be conducted under the auspices of the Brotherhood. They have engaged Alexander Sullivan and his partner Thomas G Winker. Ex Secretary of War Robert Lincoln will appear for Gen McNulta.

After the injunction proceedings were begun to-day the strikers quit striking for a time. Their caucuses and conference adjourned without action and everybody talked to everybody else without any special object in view. They sat down to wait until Judge Gresham had his say. Altogether the men seemed glad that the matter had got into court and confidence was renewed on all sides that there would now be a speedy settlement of the strike. Wirt Dexter, counsel for the Burlington road claims to be well aware of the fact that the Brotherhood of Engineers is not an incorporated society, but notwithstanding is confident of being able to tie their hands by a writ of injunction.

THE LAKE SHORE TAKING BURLINGTON CARS

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Lake Shore has been receiving freight to and from the Burlington road to-day with no protest from their engineers. Most of the Eastern roads have signified a willingness to do the same but with the exception of the Union Pacific all the Western roads remain firm in their refusal to handle Burlington cars.

The Brotherhood issued a long statement to-night setting forth once more the various phases of their position and that of the railroad company, saying they are ready and willing and always have been willing to arbitrate the questions in dispute in any manner decided upon. They ask if more can be expected of them. They say in conclusion that the Brotherhood can not recede from its demands on the wages question and maintain either their self respect or organization. On this point they must win or die.

Officials of the Burlington railroad claim that their business is improving right along. To-day they began transporting live stock, for the first time since the strike was inaugurated. Their passenger trains, they say, are in good shape.

AT OTHER PLACES.

THEY PAID THE MORTGAGE.

CRESTON, Iowa, March 8.—The Brotherhood had quite an exciting time here to-day. The company captured three of their men early in the day, but after a hard struggle the strikers recaptured them. One of the men it is understood had a mortgage on his house and the strikers claim the superintendent told the man it was in his power to have it foreclosed. The Brotherhood on learning this immediately paid the mortgage and the man left his engine, the other two also being induced to join him.

AT KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, March 8.—A crisis of affairs on the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf system which was expected to culminate in a strike to-day, has been delayed. Chairman Hiscock of the grievance committee arrived here to-day and has sent out by telegraph a call for a meeting of all the committees to be held here to-morrow, when the question will probably be settled. The company show no sign of altering its attitude of willingness to accept Burlington freight.

ANOTHER ROAD INVOLVED.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Manitoba has been sold down in the stock exchange on reports that a general strike has been ordered on that road. The line is practically controlled by the Chicago Burlington & Quincy and a strike is expected by officials of that company.

MORE ENGINEERS QUIT.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Engineers on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern at Cedar Rapids [illegible] engineers on the Manitoba road at [illegible] refused to handle Chicago, Burlington & [illegible] cars to-day.

AN ASTORIA ORDINANCE NULLIFIED.

The common council of Astoria passed an ordinance January 24 prescribing the duties and compensation of the harbor master and regulating the [illegible] mooring of vessels. In this ordinance are two sections which have caused a great deal of disturbance among the pilots, culminating finally in the arrest of two of them, Johnson and Babidge, for violating the two following sections:

Sec. 8. The master, owner, agent or consignee of any vessel wishing to move or dock the same shall apply to the harbor master, who shall move or dock said ship or vessel and shall receive as compensation for such services the sum of $10 to be paid by such master, owner, agent or consignee.

Sec. 9. No person or persons shall move or dock any vessel except the harbor master and any person found violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof in the police court be fined not to exceed $100 or by imprisonment not to exceed twenty days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Both Babidge and Johnson were fined in the police court and the cases were carried up to the circuit court where Judge Taylor decided the ordinances invalid and reversed the fine and decision of the police court. The matter was placed in the hands of Attorney C F Paxton of this city who successfully engineered the affair to a satisfactory close.

THE EAST SIDE.

SUDDEN DEATH—A LUCKY FIND—BASEBALL GROUNDS—NOTES.

For some time past Mrs. Barry, who has been living alone on Ninth street, in Stephens addition has been sick and the neighbors have been sitting up and caring for her. Wednesday night a lady stayed with her part of the night, but Mrs Barry feeling better, her attendant went home. Yesterday morning when a lady went in with breakfast for Mrs Barry she was found lying on the floor in a dying condition. Help was quickly summoned but she died in a very short time. She was 60 years of age.

LUCKY FIND.

The city council instructed the commissioner to have the dirt removed from U street, and in accordance with the order he put a man and boy to work yesterday. The first shovelful of earth the boy took up brought to light a gold ten-dollar piece. It was a lucky find for the boy who is very poor and compelled to work hard for all he gets.

NEW BASEBALL GROUNDS.

The Willamette baseball club have given up securing the Holladay park and have entered into an agreement with McCoy & Gliston to build them suitable stands, fences, etc. on the property recently purchased by them from J R Stephens. McCoy & Gliston are to receive one third of the receipts and the club agrees not to play on other grounds in or near Portland for one year.

BOUND TO BE A TERMINUS

VANCOUVER FEELING EXHILARATED OVER HER APPROACHING GREATNESS AND PROSPERITY.

A large force of men and teams are now at work grading on the Vancouver Klickitat & Yakima railroad near this city says the Independent. The road is cleared of logs and brush ready for grading for about three and one-half miles out. Grading was commenced on the hill back of the court house, where the heaviest grade this side of Burnt Bridge creek is being about twelve feet high. When the first two miles are graded most of the other three miles of the present contract will be comparatively easy grading. Last week twelve roller scrapers came and more are expected soon with which Contractor Malone will "make the dirt fly" between now and the first of May. Business will boom in Vancouver the coming summer, and don't you forget it. There are more strangers in this city this spring looking for and than there has been for many a year. "On to the coal fields!" Let that be the cry. When the road is once completed to the coal fields Vancouver is certain to become a rival of such cities as Spokane Falls Tacoma and Seattle. It will then be a great shipping point. It will then be Vancouver, the terminus.

CENTRALIA NOTES

CENTRALIA, March 7.

New coal veins are developing every day between here and Seatco.

Our people are all very busy getting their spring work done though the weather is cold and showery. The sawmills are in full blast at present and two more mills are about to be built.

Seatco is one of the most flourishing little towns we have here. There has been a grand hotel built for the accommodation of the mill hands and the public generally and the regular hands employed in Seatco are at present boarding there. In addition to this there are several boarding and lodging houses and another large hotel which is situated near the coal bunkers. There will be another built this summer. The coal company already have one side track and are about to lay another. They are running night and day. Mr Shead one of the principal land owners in Seatco or Bucoda has given a lot for the building of a union church. A new school house is also to be put up. There are two or three stores and two saloons, one more going up. In our peregrinations around the town and manufacturing buildings we ran across a very interesting little fellow in the person of James Browner who was selling THE DAILY OREGONIAN. He says he does well at it. Our Texan friends have not yet decided what to do. Some have taken land and others are still in the town. Strangers are rushing in every day, still we have room and lots of it.

THE STAGE.

"AFTER DARK."—This play is enjoying a very prosperous and popular run at New Park theater. Last evening's performance was witnessed by a large and fashionable audience. The play ran very smoothly and the interest was sustained from opening to close. The great tank act was performed with splendid, thrilling effect. Interest and excitement reach a high pitch when Miss Tittel is plunged head first into the water, and only culminates when Brady leaps in and heroically rescues her. Shouts from the gods in the gallery and thunderous applause from the auditors down stairs greet the close of this most realistic scene. In response to the call Miss Tittel and Mr Brady were called before the curtain soaked and dripping, and acknowledged the compliment.

NEW PARK THEATER.—The Juvenile Opera Company sailed yesterday on the steamship Oregon and will arrive here to morrow evening. On next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings they will produce the "Mikado." We publish the following from the San Jose News: "The Juvenile Opera Company gave their final production last evening at the California theater. The company shows evidence of careful and thorough rehearsing and the artistic work of the various performers reflects much credit on Mr. T Wilmot Eckert under whose direction the plays of the company are produced. The young people who compose the acting members of the company are talented and much of their work would lead to the conclusion that they were experienced performers. Miss Mollie Stockmeyer appeared in San Jose with a juvenile opera company about a year ago playing Ralph Rackstraw in Pinafore. Since then however she has acquired an ease and grace which betokens a successful career in her profession. Miss Julia Martin is a charming young lady, and considering her age has developed much dramatic talent. She is one of the most attractive members of the company and the most graceful actress in the cast. G Behan, a boy about 12 years of age, has a remarkably strong voice and sings several songs with much spirit and is well received. On the whole the company gave an even and well balanced performance and are deserving of liberal patronage from the theater goers of San Jose." Sale of seats commences at Prentice's on Saturday morning.

JEFFERSON NOTES

Marion county prohibition primaries will be held on Saturday, March 10, at 2 P. M. The county convention at Salem Friday March 16.

At Scio a very successful revival by Revs. Woolley and Kirkpatrick Cumberland Presbyterians is going on in the Christian church.

The Christian Herald, published for many years at Monmouth, Polk county, is to be incorporated with the Christian Independent, Oakland, Cal.

The attendance at the public schools has increased so much under the principalship of Prof W T Van Scoy, that a third teacher, Miss Lou Miller, has been engaged.

The town has been for some time without a saloon, the city council putting up the license to a prohibitory point. But a saloon is likely to be started soon just across the river.

At the protracted meeting in the Christian church Salem conducted by Elders Webb and Wade Campbell Richardson and Burnett assisting, there have been several conversions and additions to the church.

Near Sublimity, Marion county, the family of W Smith is badly afflicted. His wife and fifteen year-old son have died of throat erysipelas. The twin brother of the boy and a daughter are also sick with the same trouble.

The prohibitionists are jubilant over the coming of St. John of Kansas, Walter T Mills, "The Little Giant," and secretary of the international college prohibition clubs and Rev A. J. Jutkins D D of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the national prohibition committee. The latter two are to be at the state convention Portland, March 8. The former arrives about April 8. All will deliver addresses at various points in the state.

Rev J W Webb, state organizer of the prohibition party, and E. E. McKinney, of Turner, who are making a canvass of Marion county, opened the campaign here on Monday night to a fine audience, in the M E church. Rev W T Van Scoy presiding. After the singing of gospel hymns and prayer, Mr Webb spoke effectively for over an hour on the necessity of a national prohibition party to cope with the national evil of the liquor traffic.

COUNTY.

Estate of the partnership of Knapp, Burrell & Co report filed and approved and time for settlement extended to March 10 1889.

McLAUGHLIN IMPROVING

Charley McLaughlin, who was shot by policeman Holsapple a few nights since and who has been in hospital since was arrested on Front street about 1 o'clock this morning in a condition which a policeman defined as about two thirds drunk. He had been on a tour through the dives where he has his favorite haunts. He is feeling pretty well and it seems there is no fear of Holsapple's bullet ending his useless career. He will probably stay in jail a while now for a change.

EXCUSED.—A witness named Rigden who failed to appear on Wednesday, being summoned to give testimony in the timber case of the United States vs Wm Noyes and the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, had an examination before Judge Deady yesterday and was excused. Rigden's plea was that his child was so dangerously ill from diphtheria that he feared she would die. The fact that his testimony was not needed in the case made his excuse have more weight than it might perhaps otherwise have done.

ADMINISTRATOR'S REPORT.—In the county court yesterday in the matter of the estate of the partnership of Knapp, Burrell & Co Walter F Burrell, one of the administrators filed a report showing the total receipts since the filing of the last account to have been $41,070 95 including $368 5 on hand March 3 1887, disbursements $40 54 (9 leaving $316 2 on hand. Judge Catlin approved the account and extended the time for the settlement of the partnership to March 10 1889.

POOR FARM STATISTICS.—The report of Superintendent H. McBride of the county poor farm for February shows that during the month two persons were admitted while sixteen left or were discharged. On March 1 there were fifty persons on the farm including fourteen Chinese lepers. Since the farm was opened 1564 persons have been received at it. Of this number 1056 were white males—593 Americans and 463 foreigners—435 colored and 73 white women.

ALL ROUND FINING.—Justice Tuttle yesterday fined J C O Reilly $10 for assault and battery on D C Burns and $ for battery on Wm Kerron. E. Deal his business partner paid $5 for beating Burns and a like amount for assaulting Kerron. Burns was mulcted $5 for beating O Reilly and Kerron $20 for assault and battery on O Reilly and $20 for thrashing Deal. Mr Kerron will appeal to the state circuit court.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Past 24 hours include 19,916 ctls wheat 300 bbls flour 617 ctls oats, 790 sks potatoes, 30 lbs hides 4 pkgs butter 53 cs eggs 18 bxs fruit, 140 lbs hops car hay, 18 cattle.

FREIGHTS.—The Mobile Bay arrived with prior business and the Derby Park open during the week. The Bessfield also came in taking orders for Australia. Sailings were Ben Douran, Dunstrune, Keir and Dunscore with wheat. Thomas S Stowe and Medea with flour and Bessfield and John Gambles in ballast. The Gambles and the Bessfield went to Australia for coal to San Francisco or San Diego. The Lucipara, The Frederick and the Oimara are about ready with wheat while others at hand will get away this month. On spot the Carnmoney, iron, was closed for wheat loading by C Cesar & Co. the same firm securing the Glenbervie by recharter at reported rate of 35s 3d or 6s 9d below the original rate. Exporters have shown no especial willingness to look up tonnage and owners have met with no success in chartering. The market for iron must be quoted 32s 6d@35s 3d as to size. The Stockbridge, large iron, has arrived in river, but her business has not been made public.

WHEAT.—Receipts past week 1207 tons valley and 7425 tons Walla Walla. Purchases of west side wheat have helped swell arrivals and a cargo is being loaded. There is also a fair movement of east side and river wheat. Walla Walla is in about even receipt, some Palouse coming for Tacoma account. Outgoing steamers have taken what they could without making much of a hole in the stock to go forward. The loading movement foreign is steadily decreasing, tonnage arrivals not keeping pace with clearances. The receipt of 1887 crop to date has been 227,442 tons, about equal to the receipt of 1886 crop in the same time. A decrease in the receipt of valley is offset by increased arrivals from the eastern section.

Cables of the week have noted firm but dull markets for the most part. Buyers abroad are allowing their stocks to be reduced, believing that they can hold back for another month and they buy from larger lines. The markets on this side have ruled quiet, presenting no price changes of importance. Locally the extremes lately named have brought more wheat and sellers are more numerous than for some time past. Valley is offered in larger quantities than at any time during the season and buyers have, in the last days taken important lines at $1 25 or a shade less. The quoted range is $1 22½@1 25, the extreme being favored. Walla Walla holders are paying more attention to the market and it is thought selling will soon be more general. Of late exporters have hesitated and taken only for actual requirements, the general demand of $1 17½ being above the export value of the grain in ships secured. With a lower tonnage market and charters made under it this will be overcome and doubtless result in a larger trade. Now $1 16@1 17½ is quoted with the extreme certainly a full figure.

OATS.—Receipts past week 11 833 ctls, the last steamer taking 5360 ctls and leaving about 350 tons on wharf. A very large part of the stock now being shipped goes on consignment, the better or readier market for choice grades being an attraction. Our own market is well supplied, the paying range being 45@47c, the extreme buying choice parcels from willing sellers. Off grades are very dull sale and not closely quoted. The future of the market is not a very flattering one to holders and they are accepting the situation.

POTATOES.—Tuesday's steamer cleaned up all on dock, taking 5300 sacks. This leaves but a small quantity here to go unless the market improves. The business of the week has been of light proportions with buyers not caring to take hold and holders not satisfied with prices offered. Quote Garnets and Peerless 60c, Burbanks 75c per ctl.

ONIONS.—Offerings now include much that is below the standard so that the market is less regular. Buyers are paying 85c@$1 per cental as to grade. Choice are being shipped and bring a fair return. Local demands are easily met.

GREEN FRUIT.—Apples in fair supply, only buyers taking choice varieties for shipment and the local call asking for more. Buyers quote $1 25@1 50 for best. Oranges are in full supply, the request being very good. Navel sell at $5, Riversides and Seedlings at $3 50 and Los Angeles at $2 75. Lemons quoted $ @6 with quite a supply at hand.

VEGETABLES.—Cabbage selling higher at 3½c, celery $1, cauliflower $1 75 per doz. Not much doing.

BUTTER.—The best grades of local roll continue to sell at 30@35c and the receipt is quite ample. Less desirable grades are quoted 22½@27½c while for some 15@20c only can be had. California fresh roll is selling at 30c to day and the next arrivals will be lower. This weakens the market for roll.

EGGS.—In large receipt until the last days of the week.

THE MEAT MARKET.

Beef is firmly held as a rule but there is no lack of supply. Live quoted at 4@4½c, dressed 8c. Mutton firm at 4½c for live and 9c dressed. Veal in light supply at about 7@9c. Hogs bring live dressed generally 7@8½c.

DEAFNESS CURED

In Five Minutes by Dr. Darrin.

MR EDITOR: For years past I have been growing deaf, until last January I could not hear anything in my right ear. Dr Darrin examined me February 27 and said he could cure me in five minutes. He kept his word, for in less than five minutes I could hear as well as ever in my life. The sounds in the streets are entirely changed, and really painful to my ear. I was cured without medicine or surgical operation—just simply electricity, as applied by Dr Darrin. Refer to me at East Portland, Smith's addition on Twenty first street.

MYRON OTIS.

CURED OF HEART DISEASE.

MR EDITOR: Please add my name to the long list of people cured by Dr Darrin. Nineteen years ago I had scarlet fever which left me with asthma and bronchitis and shortness of breath during all that time. Five years ago I was taken down with heart disease, palpitation, nervousness and a smothered feeling. One month ago I commenced treatment with Dr Darrin. Now I am cured and can be referred to at my place of business, 3- B street, Portland.

B H RICE.
